

Papers published during the funding period:

Reputation risk management: Protecting (some) small investors. Journal of Financial Regulation and Compliance 22(4). 2014.

Submitted and or submission pending to academic journals:

Robert McNamara's managerial legacy observed through the World Bank's World Development Reports 1978-1990.

Can inflation expectations be measured using commodity futures prices? (with D'Maris Coffman).

Book monograph submitted in Lent Term, to be published in June 2015:

Regulating Securitized Products: A Post-Crisis Guide. 2015 (forthcoming). Palgrave.

Link to marketing information here:

<http://www.palgrave.com/page/detail/regulating-securitized-products-rasheed-saleuddin/?K=9781137497949>

This work is intended to influence financial regulatory policy at the national and international level.

Papers presented:

Were key financial benchmarks irrational during the global financial crisis? Presented at the Centre for Financial History student workshop, 4 March 2015

Going beyond 'market versus state' ideological struggles in explaining the existence and longevity of the 1922 Grain Futures Act. Presented at the Centre for Financial History seminar series on 2 February 2015 and to be presented at the Agricultural History Society Annual Meeting in June 2015.